A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tecza et al.

Tecza et al. disclose an amortisseur bar damping device comprising: a rigid support member (22) including a first side and a second side opposite said first side; and a first resilient member (28) disposed to said first side and a second resilient member (30) disposed to said second side.

Regarding claim 13, Tecza et al. disclose said first and second resilient members comprise a substantially rectangular shape.

Regarding claim 14, Tecza et al. disclose said first and second resilient members comprise an elastomer.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17-20 are allowed.

Election/Restriction

3. Applicant's election with traverse of claims 12-20 in Paper No. 5 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the species clearly are related. This is not found persuasive because the species are distinct from each other by different structure and arrangement. The species are a separated status.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.
